22nd June

My dear Raza, It was wonderful receiving your letter & I feel most flattered that you should extend your friendship & love so generously. You have a rare friend. You know how much at home I feel with you both & I would quite naturally come to your home as I have done in the past. Krishna & Jean asked me to stay with them this time & I felt I couldn't say no. This does not mean that I will not be seeing a great deal of you while I am there. I have booked my passage and will be arriving by Air India on the 7th July at 11 a.m. (that happens to be on Wednesday) by flight 104. and will leave for New Delhi on Saturday 10th at 11.45 a.m. by Air India 110. This will give me three clear days in Paris - not enough really but what is one to do. I have been away three months from Renu and the children and am longing to get back. Maybe my next trip will be to Paris! Who can I tell.

My show has gone better than I had expected! - I have sold seven paintings so far and there still remain as the prospect of a few other sales, including one at the Museum of Modern Art but you have no idea how bureaucratic this organisation has become. I could slip one in through the Ambassador but don't want to act in that fashion. I'm looking forward to having

Akbar here though it is going to be for such a brief time, specially as I'm busy as all hell just now. Wish he'd come earlier.
Forgive me this brief note but there's much to talk about — as always — Kiss Janine on both cheeks for me — Much love to you both Krishna.
